"For The First Time In History Young Americans Find Their Country, As It Faces The World, Fearful And Indecisive. The Roots Of This Tragedy Are Found In The Fact That We Have Been Too Ready For Too Long To Trust A Godless Dictatorship. Think Of The Places That Stand As Black Monuments To This Misplaced Trust: Our Loss Of China; A Divided And Almost Naked Germany; The Enslaved Countries Of The Baltic And The Balkans; A Long And Bloody Struggle In Greece. Today The Consequences Of That Misplaced Trust Come Home To Everyone Of Us In The War In Korea. If We Had Been Less Trusting, If We Had Been Less Soft And Weak There Might Easily Have Been No War In Korea. But For This Great Nation Of Ours There Is No Reason For Defeatism. Russia's Kremlin Masters Are Not Supermen. There Is One Language They Understand Without An Interpreter, That Is The Language Of Strength: Economic, Military And Spiritual Strength." (06/27/52)
